Gottfried Sculpture Workshop

By Virginia Richards

Jeff Gottfried is returning to teach a sculpture workshop at the BAC on October 8 and 9 from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. each day. Students will complete a 2/3 life-size bust using paper pulp mixed with ceramic clay and a tall wooden armature provided by the instructor. Workshop participants should allow 2 to 2 ½ hours to complete glazing/staining to the bisque, which will take place November 5 from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in the pottery room. The end product is a permanent glazed sculpture that can be enjoyed for ages. Jeff Gottfried is a popular instructor and class size is limited, so don't delay signing up. Cost is $250.00 and includes firing fees, ceramic clay, and reusable wooden armature.

MasterChef Jr

By Virginia Richards

The Culinary Club hosted a MasterChef Jr camp August 1-5 and the young campers really enjoyed it. They learned new kitchen skills, such as testing meat with a thermometer and melting chocolate with a double boiler pot. Varied recipes were used from the MasterChef Jr cookbook, but making Whoopie Pies was a favorite. This year involved 22 volunteers, who contributed their time, equipment, donations, and experience for a successful culinary camp.

Book Club

By Beth Hatcher

September is a month when sports are in full swing. Baseball nears the end of a looong season, football gets underway. Soccer and basketball will soon start. We'll join the trend by reading a sports-themed book. Even if you are a life-long bench-warmer, you will enjoy the captivating stories and life-lessons found in sports writing. We will choose our book at the August meeting, so check the website in early September to find out this month's selection.

Come join our "team" on Wednesday September 28 at 10:00 a.m. as we kick-off a fall of shared books and stimulating conversations.

Culinary Club

By Virginia Richards

Culinary Club members: grab your aprons and come to the BAC kitchen on Thursday, September 15 at 5:00 p.m. for a demonstration/baking experience. We will be making Lava Cakes, a beautiful dessert that is sure to impress guests at your next dinner party.

Radney Foster: An Acoustic Evening

Books on the Bosque Opening Night

In 2015, Radney Foster contracted pneumonia and laryngitis. So sick he had to cancel shows and could only communicate through writing notes, the songwriter said he faced "an existential crisis...What if I can't ever sing again? I am a storyteller. How can I tell stories if I can't sing?" To ward off boredom, he decided to write a story based on a new song. His wife encouraged him: "Hallelujah! You should. You're driving me crazy."

The result of that time was a new album and short fiction collection, For You to See the Stars, which Foster will bring to the BAC on November 11. Books on the Bosque is delighted to present an acoustic evening of songs intermingled with fiction from this artist who has topped the charts solo, as a part of the duo Foster & Lloyd, as well as a writer penning hits for Keith Urban, Luke Bryan, Nitty Gritty Dirt Band, and Kenny Loggins.

BAC member presale for the Radney Foster show opens October 3, with tickets on sale to the public October 10. Reserved seating will be $75, $50, and $40, while general admission tickets will be $20.

Stay tuned to the October newsletter and our website for news on Saturday's conference for writers and readers.

Bosque County Art Club

By Lillian Jacoway

PAINT DAY! Art club members enjoyed a creative meeting in August, as they "did their own thing." Some worked in oil pastel, others in watercolor, graphite, and other media.

Members, and newly elected officers discussed plans for future events, Including holiday programs and activities.

ACE's quarterly competition was held. Attendees commented that it was exceptional. Reuben Jacoway is

Jo Beck, watercolor artist, is giving a demonstration for the art club in September. She will be demonstrating a technique that is new to us.

Exciting news!! The lovely Megan Shepherd is going to model for the art club to draw and paint during the October meeting. This is an extraordinary opportunity, and everyone is invited to take advantage to develop their figure drawing and painting skills.

Quilt Guild

By Linda Pfeiffer

Join us for our September meeting on the first Tuesday of the month. We will finalize plans for Fall Fest.

Our August meeting found us playing games and catching up on our summer projects.

Our September program will feature Sandy Hammond from Sandy's Quilt Shop in Joshua Tree. She will present uses for Quilt Panels.

For questions concerning the guild or quilting in general, please call 254 675-3724.

ATRIUM GALLERY

WALLY PENBERTHY

Wally Penberthy is our solo artist for September. In 1967 Penberthy began dabbling with duck decoys while working on his PhD from Texas A&M. These ornamental decoys in this exhibit are not the kind used for hunting.

Approximately 20 to 25 of Penberthy's 43 duck decoy collection will be on display in the Atrium Gallery. His initial carvings were made from cedar but cedar proved to be problematic. Tupelo Gum has since become his carving wood of choice. His process begins initially with a large piece of wood and a number of various carving saws, finished off with planning, rasping, sanding, lathing, and burning. Feather detailing is the most labor intensive part of the process while heads are made separately and attached later.

The duck decoys will be on display 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and other times during BAC events. Don't miss this special exhibit of Wally Penberthy's decoys during the month of September in the Atrium Gallery.

IN MEMORIAM

Carolyn Cotton

written by Lillian Jacoway

Carolyn Cotton, who recently passed away, was a friend to everyone. She had been a member of the Bosque County Arts Club for several decades, and was welcomed everywhere she went.

Although she had not painted for a while, she still attended most Art Club meetings and paintouts. Certainly, she was an encouragement to others. Her smile and good cheer were ever present.

This photo was taken at the 2017 Art Classic, when a cousin's relief of Crockett was accepted in the show.

Carolyn's greatest pride was the fact that Davy Crockett and she were related. All things concerning the Alamo were of great interest to her, and she attended many San Antonio gatherings with those of like interest. As the years passed, she continued to drive herself long distances for this passion. Perhaps this is an example to all of us to stay active, and enjoy life as we age.

Although Carolyn lost her dear husband years ago, she continued to enjoy gatherings with other family members and many friends.

This sweet lady was a longtime active church member. She also served in several offices of the BCAC, Including Secretary and Advisor. Our friend, You will be missed, but never forgotten. Rest in peace, dear Carolyn!
