"My sister-in-law, Kim Davis, sent me a picture of a quilt she found on line and asked me if I could make her a quilt like it with her uniforms and I said I would try. All of the fabric except the backing and binding are from her uniforms. The embroidery was added after the quilt was quilted (quite the challenge)."

"One day my next-door neighbor came to visit with a large envelope of fabric butterflies. Her mother-in-law had collected them in the 1930's with a subscription to her newspaper. Over a period of time, I made the blocks using reproduction fabrics. It was a great travel project."

"This quilt top was created by Hilda Kosel when she was 86 in 1984. She died later that year. She was my husband's grandmother. I took the top and decided to quilt it. This was actually the first quilting I ever did. Hand quilting was something I hadn't tried at the time. I liked it and did several more of her tops over the next few years."
